Carolina Chaos
&
Southern Wesleyan Univ.
2010 Summer Baseball Camp
Series

The SWU Warrior Baseball / Carolina Chaos Baseball Camp Series is one of the most unique baseball camps in the Southeast. The camp utilizes talents of the coaching staff of the Southern Wesleyan University Baseball Program and The Carolina Chaos Summer Collegiate Baseball Program. Players from the Warrior baseball program and the Chaos summer league team also work with the campers to provide a challenging and fun environment.

The Programs

The Southern Wesleyan Baseball program makes it's home in Central, SC and plays at the newly renovated Dr. C. Keith Connor Field. The Warriors participate in the tough Southern States Athletic Conference. The SSAC has sent four of the six teams to NAIA Region play over the last several years and has sent a school to the NAIA World Series each of the last two years. SWU is one of the few remaining NAIA schools in the state and provides quality baseball in a tough and demanding conference.

The Carolina Chaos Summer Collegiate Baseball Program is a member of the Southern Collegiate Baseball League. The SCBL is one of only six summer collegiate baseball leagues endorsed by Major League Baseball and sanctioned by the NCAA. The Carolina Chaos invites 30 of the top college players from across the nation to compete in a summer collegiate wooden bat league. Players are scouted by major league scouts throughout the summer, while participating in the league. All of the Carolina Chaos players reside in the Central and Clemson
